This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text. Purchasers can download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1916 Excerpt: ...last September it was not subnormal to the degree reported by many wholesalers, and now there is not the same opportunity for such pronounced expansion. Our sales are running from 20 to 25 per cent beyond those of a year ago. We estimate 10 per cent of this is accounted for by higher prices, which would leave only 15 per cent to be ascribed to better business conditions. We do not think this argues any unwise accumulation of merchandise by retailers in our section. In-certain lines, such as colored cotton goods, and garments made thereof, the buying has been heavy, but conditions seem to justify it. We are not encouraging our customers to place heavy orders, as we think the time has passed for so doing. In our opinion, retailers should make their Fall purchases upon what they felt was a prudent basis for a good average year. Advises Buying Cautiously A KANSAS CITY concern tells how ad-vice to both wholesale and retail buyers is to operate along careful lines: We advise caution amongst all buyers, both wholesale and retail in textile lines. The poorest profit a merchant ever tried to make in textile lines is that of buying out of proportion to present needs, for stock depreciation will almost invariably absorb the profit apparently made at the time. Cleanest, Coolest Athletic Underwear TAKE a Sea/pax athletic garment out of its Sea/pax container. You will find a garment as crisp and new as it was the day our pre-laundered fabrics left the looms. Sealpax me u. s. Pat. orr. V Sea/pax is truly a better athletic nainsook underwear sold in a better way. The convenience of handling Sea/pax appeals instantly to every merchant. The sanitary idea will be appreciated by every consumer. Sealpax will win you the summer underwear trade of your community. To show it is to...
